

New Course for Spring 2010!

GRNT 7266: Death, Dying, & Bereavement

WHEN & WHERE

Tuesdays, 3:30 to 6:30 PM

Institute of Gerontology, downtown Athens

Instructor: Dr. Anne Glass

Nobody talks about it. Yet death is an inescapable part of life, and confronting death and witnessing the dying process yields perhaps the most profound experiences that any of us have.

This course will give you the opportunity to explore issues related to end-of-life care, the dying process, and the aftermath of death, including bereavement. Students will be challenged to consider their own attitudes and values, and multidisciplinary approaches will be used to examine historical, cultural, and personal perspectives on death and dying in modern society. What you gain may benefit you both personally and professionally.

The University of Georgia
College of Public Health

Institute of Gerontology

New Course for Spring
2010!

Institute of Gerontology
College of Public Health
University of Georgia
255 E. Hancock Ave.
Athens, Georgia 30602-5775

Phone: 706-425-3222
E-mail:
aglass@geron.uga.edu