

Gerontology Coordinator

The Department of Health and Applied Human Sciences at the University of North Carolina Wilmington is recruiting a Gerontology Coordinator to lead our interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary gerontology program. The appointment will be for 11 or 12 months and the position holds a faculty rank of Tenured Professor or Tenure-Track Associate Professor. The position requires a doctorate in gerontology or a related field. Leadership and academic administrative experience in gerontology is expected. The appointment begin date is July 1, 2009.

Health and Applied Human Sciences is the most multidisciplinary department within UNCW with majors/programs in Athletic Training, Community Health, Exercise Science, Gerontology, Physical Education, Parks and Recreation Management, and Recreation Therapy. For more information and to apply, please visit the Web at <http://consensus.uncw.edu>. Priority consideration will be given to on-line applications received by October 31, 2008, but will be accepted until the position is filled. Visit our website at <http://www.uncw.edu/hahs>. EEO/AA Employer.